

EIUC

HUMAN RIGHTS VILLAGE

Training seminars series

Human Rights and the Environment
21-23 November 2013

The seminar will analyse human rights from an environmental perspective, with a new multidisciplinary approach. It is targeted on practitioners and postgraduates who wish to deepen their knowledge of instruments aimed at integrating human rights and environmental issues in their daily work.

Human Rights and the Environment: Synergies and Challenges

21-23 November
2013

With the support of UNEP

contact

EIUC - Human Rights Village
Monastery of San Nicolò 26
30126 Venice Lido - Italy
Tel. +39 041 2720923
www.eiuc.org/hre
training.hre@eiuc.org

programme

21 November

Human Rights and the Environment in the Context of Sustainable Development

- The Relationships Between Human Rights and the Environment
- EU Policy and Action
- Anthropocentric vs Ecocentric Perspectives
- The Right to Development vs Sustainability
- Ecosystem Services

22 November

Identifying and Promoting the Link Between Human Rights and the Environment

- Civil, Political, Social and Economic Rights
- Rights-Based Approach to Environmental Protection
- Environmental Justice and Human Rights
- Human Rights and the Environment in Wartime
- Case Studies

23 November

Challenges and Responses to Implementing a Rights-Based Approach to Environmental Protection

- Transitional Justice, Indigenous People
- Challenges: Is Sustainability Possible?
- Case Studies
- Final Roundtable

faculty

The faculty is composed of academics and practitioners actively involved in the field of human rights and well-known ecologists specialised in environmental policies and conservation issues.

Tundi Agardy, Director, Sound Seas

Colm Campbell, Professor, University of Ulster

Charles Di Leva, Chief Counsel, Environmental and International Law Unit, World Bank

Karen Morrow, Professor, Swansea University

Giuseppe Notarbartolo di Sciara, President, Tethys Research Institute

Barbara Ruis, Legal Officer, DELC, UNEP

Gordon Walker, Professor, Lancaster University

With the participation of:

OHCHR and EU representatives

EIUC
HUMAN RIGHTS VILLAGE

